

Jesus rises from the dead

Jesus' body is taken down from the cross and wrapped in linen sheets. It is then laid in a tomb.

A large stone is rolled in front of the tomb.

Some women who had watched the crucifixion watched over the tomb.

The Jewish leaders agree for guards to watch over the tomb so the disciples can not steal Jesus body.

At daybreak on Sunday Mary and Mary who had watched over the tomb visit it again.

Suddenly there is an earthquake and an Angel comes down from heaven and rolls away the stone.

The Angel tells the two Marys not to be afraid. Jesus has been raised go and tell the disciples.

As the women hurry away they are met by Jesus.

The guards from the tomb return to the Jewish leaders and tell them what has happened.

They bribe the guards to say the disciples came in the night to steal the body.
